Tradition

-Says Elbert Hubbard, is a clock that tells what time it WAS

But we have relegated the clock of Tradition to the limbe of forgotten things. We are making our own traditions here.

And we look on a banker or a bank as the trusted servitor of his ar its clients. We believe in real, intimate, human service.

We are working on that principle,—the principle of help, of knowledge, of advice. We are making business problems easier for hundreds and hundreds of business men, and we solicit your account, knowing that we can make those same problems easier for you. We have side-stepped Tradition. We are not merely a building with strong vaults. We are a body of men, erained in finance, who can and will help you to your success. ## VERDICT OF "NOT GUILTY" IN LIBEL CASE BROUGHT BY HENDERSON AGAINST "THE TIMES.

A Glorious Victory Over Envenomed Enemies --- Gen. Otis, Chandler and Andrews Vindicated by Unanimous Jury of Substantial Citizens -- Crushing Blow to Machine Politics and Politicians.

The verdict was reached without difficulty, and accurately reflected the effect of the evidence adduced during the eight-day trial upon the jury and others who attend ed the hearings.

The final day was given over to a summarizing and presentation of the evidence by the attorneys for the defense, E. J. Fleming and George P. Adams, a cle argument by Prosecutor Eddie and the court's charge to the jury-a clear, concise statement of the law of libel and exposit The arguments made by the attorneys for the defense were clever resumes of the facts brought out on the witness stand, and satirically held up to the lig day the "case" which the prosecution failed in every point to establish. These arguments are reproduced herewith and form a complete history of the action, eption and the result which came with the recording of the verdict, "Not guilty." The jury retired at 1:55 and discussed the verdict for a little over two hours. There was a determination, it is said, that there should be no snap judge that the result should be arrived at with a mature deliberation commensurate with the importance of the issue.

The jury which has given its time for more than a week was discharged with the thanks of the court, and the expressed regret that no provision is made for nuneration of police court juries.

The Times naturally is gratified, very much so, at the outcome, in view of the fact that it was the victim of a malignant persecution by the Goo Goo political. And The Times here wishes to convey its special thanks to E. T. Earl, whose stupidly malicious abuse of the editors and managers of this journal in the gr unfair and outrageous reports printed in his little sheets contributed materially to array public sentiment on the side of The Times during the developments

The chief counsel of The Times in this battle was that eminent lawyer, Hon. W. J. Hunsaker, who was as sisted by two distinguished members of the bar, Ge P. Adams and E. J. Fleming.

A NOAH'S ARK PLATFORM.

A The "progressive" statesmen of the sun-kined State of Arisona have taken the wind out of the salls of those who are to assemble at Chicago on Monday next.

The Arisonans have adopted a platform over a column in length, with twenty general planks and two special resolutions. It resembles the contents of Noah's ark, "every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every sort."

The Arisona progressives believe, first of all, that the national Progressive party should teach and demand the return to an suforcement of the principles of government as taught and practiced by Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln. Meaning thereby the doctrine of States' rights as taught in Thomas Jefferson's resolutions of 1798, or the doctrine of national rights as practiced by Abraham Lincoln—the "progressive" voter can take his pick.

In plank two the Arisona progressives in plank two the Arisona progressives say:

"I. We recognize that it is of vital necessity to the welfare of this country that through an intelligent and practical method of influstrial systice be secured."

That resolution fits the Scotchman's deficition of metaphysics. "When the man who is talking dinna ken what he is saying, and the man who is listening dinna ken what is saying, and the man who is listening dinna ken what is saying, and the man who is listening dinna ken what is saying, and the man who is listening dinna ken what is saying, and the man who is listening dinna ken what is saying and the man who is listening dinna ken what is saying, and the man who is listening dinna ken what is saying, and the third fesolution contains the usual platitudinous culogies of labor, passed by men who labor with their laws, but never work with their hands. The fourth resolution demands to nation-wide direct primary, and the fifth resolution favors counting the popular vote for President and bidding the Hischoral College go to the devil. The sixth resolution demands that Senators and posimanters be elected by popular vote. The seventh resolution insists upon a "prompt, equitable and scientific downward—but never setsettific upward—revision of the tariif. The tenth resolution asks an extension of the time of payment to settlers under reclamation projects from ten years to twenty years, without interest, whenever the majority of the settlers upder any applied request such as set any applied request such as set any and any applied request such as set any applied request such as a set any applied request such as a set any applied request such

FOLLOW-MY-LEADER."

Long Beach has been suffering in the peaceful seaside city.

Of course the whole thing was a canard. There never was the dead body of a Mexican, or even of a canary bird, in the Long Beach reservoir. In the first place the reservoir was closed in and kept under lock and key so that so living body under any possible alreumstances could convert itself possible sircumstances could convert test into an undesirable pollution in 'that particular reservoir, whether the intention was self-destruction or aimed against the general health of the community.

Though the story circulated throughout the whole city, backed only by a very faint evidence of a fish-like oder near the hour of sunset, no one knows to this day how it started or whence it originated. Stranser still, no one seems to have suggested the obvious antidote to the tale, in the fact that the reservoir was kept closed under lock and key. Possibly the thrilling connection of a dead Mexican and a drinking reservoir was too much for the imagination of the citizens. When a rumor once grows to its full stature it is like the effect of the fire-cry in a crowded theater, and no one stops to reason.

feet of the fire-cry in a crowded theater, and no one stops to reason.

There is no stranger fact in psychology than the follow-my-leader instinct that immediately takes possession of a crowd when once the atmosphere becomes tuned to certain malicious vibrations. In this, the world's speediest age, no modern invention has ever overtaken the winged feet of ancient rumor. The reeds today still whisper King Midas's secret, whether it be the supposed dead body of a Mexican or the actual curs of an ass.

In Paris, some years ago, two young men

A GREAT ARITHMETICIAN.

A The cipherar for the Los Angeles "progressive" organ is, like Michael Cassio, "a great arithmetician." In the Rocasveltian tongue he can "belt the siusing" yet at any eld arithmetic, and yet he remains obstinately silent when asked to disclose how he can make $68 votes a majority of 1000. Once more The Times because of the right of the bridge as with a powerful magnet. Before long the mounted powerful magnet. Before long the mounted police had to be called out to clear the theroughtare and no one knew why they were there are what had happened. For the two original jokers had long since decamped. This was simply another form of the dead Mckican rumor that has just stirred the worker of Long Beach.

THE CANAL AGAIN.

Great Britain, it is said, will modify her position with respect to the Panama Canal op as to allow the United States to her position with respect to the Panama Canal so as to allow the United States to exampt its own war vessels from paying toil. It will not require Uncle Sam to take the money out of his starboard pocket to pay the toil on an American Dreadnought and than deposit the money in his isphoard pocket. This consession on the part of John Bull will be gratefully appreciated by the American people. It will tend to restore the entente cordiale which has been thrice shattered; once at Lexington and again in 1912 when Britain overhauled our ships on the high seas and impressed as an English subject every mariner who did not speak the mother tongue with a Gloucester mackerel-cafching accent; and yet again when "nautral" England allowed the Alshams and the Shenandosh to sail from her ports for the purpose of driving from the seas our merchant ships which were interfering with her monopoly of the ocean. It is true that England afterwards paid fifteen millions of dollars for the ships she destroyed, but she kept fifteen hundred millions of dollars worth of ocean-carrying trade that their destruction enabled her to obtain.

Under the Sues Canal rules Russia pays to its vessels the toils exacted of them. The right of the United States to adopt a similar name or the Hay-Paunocetot treaty want in the first payer to the singlet of the United States to adopt a similar name or the Hay-Paunocetot treaty want in the singlet of the United States to adopt a similar name or the Hay-Paunocetot treaty it can only be discussed and determined upon the basis, not of right, but of expediency. The American people or a majority of them—have been hitherto opposed to ship subsidies, but "times change and we change with them." Time was when the face of the Democratic party was set like a fint against internal improvements at Federal expense, yet later prominent Democrats in Congress voted money and land freely to aid in the construction of Bactific railroads.

Consistency is sometimes a jewel and at other times it is a 29-cent imitation of a other times it is a 29-cent imitation of a 23-dollar gold chain. The subsidizing of our merchant ships may or may not have been a wise policy in years gone. It is certainly a wise policy now—at least to the extent of remitting or returning the Panama Canal tells.

All the protracted howl about Taft "stealing" the nomination from Roosevelt is met by a few simple and incontrovertible figures which again, and again, and yet sgain The Times has vainly besought the progressive press to deay or explain. The Chicago National Republican Con-vention consisted of 1050 members. The

Did Roosevelt at any time directly or indirectly have 541 votes, either for himself are for any resolution or report favored by his followers even if all the votes which he claimed were "stolen" from him had been counted?

All of the contests filed with the National Committee by Roosevelt were abandoned by him except those which were contested before the Committee on Credentials. Of these, seventy-sight were decided in favor of Taft, and the foundation and superstructure of the claim that progressives have a right to use the name and inachinery of the Republican party is that the decisions of the Committee on Credentials were corrupt decisions; that the seventy-sight were decided in favor of Taft, and the foundation and superstructure of the claim that progressives have a right to use the name and inachinery of the Republican party is that the decisions of the Committee on Credentials were corrupt decisions; that the seventials were corrupt decisions that the seventials were corrupt decisions; that the seventials were corrupt decisions that the seventials were corrupt d race of men. When it can teach us how to treak the vibrations that paralyse the common sense of a crowd, though the same vibrations would be harmless to an isolated individual, it will have performed a notable victory for the cause of progress. Independently, it will have killed socialism deader than the Long Beach dead Mexican. For it will have taught us effectually to cast out fear, which is but the offspring of panic. The medical profession itself has admitted that, in the case of an epidemic of choiers or plague, fear claims more victims than the disease itself.

THE CANAL AGAIN.

UNCLE WALT.

English subject every mariner who did not speak the mother tongue with a Gloucester mackerel-cafehing accent; and yet again when "neutral" England allowed the Alsbame and the Shenandoun to sail from her ports for the purpose of driving from the seas our merchant ships which were interfering with her monopoly of the ocean. Under the Sues Canal rules Russia pays to its vessels the tolls exacted of them. The right of the United States to sdopt a similar plan, or, the Hay-Pauncefots treaty being under intermational law abrogated by the cession to the United States of the canal zone, our right to subsidize, either directly or indirectly, American ships passing through the canal is not a subject of discussion with foreign nations. With us it can only be discussed and determined appear to the basis, not of right, but of expediences. The American possible of the monopoly of the ocean is not of right, but of expediences. I think I niede a harsh comparison between the multiudinous sents and benches placed for the comfort of the public in shaded places on the sidewalks as well as in the parks. In Nanhein, and the standing-room in Passdens, her instance, both cities catering to the tourist and invalid patronage.

There are ten hospitals and homes in Nauhelin, three of which are maintained and managed for their people by the Jews one of these is a children's hospital. Manhelin in a spottessay clean city. But that is merely maying that it is a German city. It has no trolley fines, and therefore many horses. Cab fare, for short distances, is about equivalent to trolley fare in Los angeles, but when you run must the milis it is different. Well, rewthah! Gratuities are amail. A temperantepiece looks like a German twin of our nichel. When you hand it to a man for a tip the min thanks you in German. And you shudder to think what a German waiter, six weeks in the United States, would do to you if you offered him 314 cents.

Here and there, and none too frequently, c, wooden pillar four or five feet in diameter and ten feet high, stands at some advantageous intersection of streets where it is prominent to the gree of the passerby. It is a common sight in all European effice. It is the municipal bulletin beard, terpretation of the act of Congress of July 27, 1864, making a grant of certain public lands to the defendants. left last night for San Francisco, where he will interview R. D. Townsend, special assistant of the Attorney-General, having in charge the pending suits involving the same lesses, against many of the ame defendants, on the subject of the proposed litigation.

The suits instituted by Burke and George D. Roberts, both for the possession of land patented to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, and now asserted to be mineral in character, are in process of litigation. The Burke complaint was first heard before United States Circuit Judge Ross, who sustained the demurrer of the defendants, and the view was affirmed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. It was taken to the United States Bupreme Court, and will be argued in Washington October 14. It is admitted that the findings of the highest court in the Burke case will have much to do with the complaints that are being prepared to be filed later in the United States District Court here.

The prayer of the Burke complaint is that all of the defendants be required to marshal and set out their interests in the lands affected, involving five sections of land at Coalings, Fresso county, in which Burke claims an interest of one-tenth; that the complainant be adjudged the owner of the land in dispute, subject only to the paramount interests of the United States government.
